

SCHOOL: BUSINESS AND MANAGEMENT
DEPARTMENT: ACCOUNTING AND FINANCE
MODULE: Principles of management / Business Management
MODULE CODE: AF114

ACCOUNTING AND FINANCE L4/HUMAN RESOURCE DEVELOPMENT L4
/SUPPLY CHAIN AND LOGISTICS MANAGEMENT L4 T/BUSINESS STUDIES L5
/SECRETARIAL AND OFFICE ADMINISTRATION L6

ASSIGNMENT: NO.1
DUE DATE: 13 MARCH 2026

LECTURER(S): Mr. L. Amushila

INSTRUCTIONS TO CANDIDATES

1. Answer all questions.
2. Use Times New Roman, 1.5 line spacing, 11 font size, APA style referencing format.
3. AI usage will be detected up to 15%.
4. Submit your assignment in PDF Document.
5. Submit your Assignment on eLearning on time.

TOTAL MARKS 50

QUESTION 1

Describes the four important and dynamic primary functions of management as planning, organizing, leading, and controlling. In this assignment you will identify, describe, and differentiate the four functions. The following steps will help you prepare for your written assignment:

1. Carefully consider the four primary functions of management in the context of a business you know.
2. Select one of the four functions of management that your reading and consideration leads you to believe is the most important. If you believe no single function stands out, then you may select the interoperability of all four.

Your Task

Write a five to six-paragraph essay describing your chosen function, and why you rank its importance so highly. Your essay must include three properly referenced and defined terms from the module reading. For example, if you select Controlling, you could include the definition of feedback loop. Answer and address these questions:

- What is the primary function you selected?
- How does it interact with the other functions?
- What would happen to “management” without your selected function?
- What factors cause you to rank its importance above the others?

In addition to the text, you are encouraged to research your topic using reliable and properly cited Internet resources.

(50 MARKS)

THE END!